About Scopus Author Identifier

Scopus Author Identifier is a unique number that matches authorship to groups of documents. Documents that cannot be confidently matched are grouped separately. In this case, you may see more than one entry for the same author.

ResearchGate – invitation to share

The screenshot displays the ResearchGate 'One-Click Upload' page. The main interface includes a title 'One-Click Upload', a brief instruction, a 'Select all' checkbox, and a list of publications. One publication is selected: 'Modeling Language Learners' Knowledge State: What Are L Students' Free Written Productions Telling Us?'. Below the list is a checkbox for agreeing to the upload conditions, with an arrow pointing to it. At the bottom are 'Upload selected' and 'Do this later' buttons. An inset window shows the 'upload conditions' text, which states that by uploading, the user confirms they have reviewed the file, own the rights, and agree to ResearchGate's extraction of structured data and figures. The inset also shows the 'Upload selected' button and the footer text '© 2008-2016 researchgate.net. All rights reserved.'

☐ I reviewed and verified the files I am going to upload and made sure I am the author. I also agree to the upload conditions

By uploading this file (i) you are confirming that you have reviewed this file and that it contains no material protected by intellectual property laws or personal rights unless you own or control such rights or have received all necessary consents, and (ii) you ask ResearchGate to extract structured data from it, and (iii) you ask ResearchGate to extract figures (including, without limitation, data, tables, graphs, images, illustrations) from the publication. If figures can be extracted, they will be added to your profile as additional separate items. If structured data can be extracted, it will be displayed in an enriched viewing format. Data will be stored as part of your profile and can be controlled in the same way as the uploaded file.

Open Hero Top 10%

Every single one of your papers is free to read online. Wow! That's a level of access only 2% of other researchers achieve. Open access helps real people, and that's pretty heroic.

Hot Streak Top 10%

People keep talking about your research. Someone has shared your research online every month for the last 2 months. That's a sharing streak matched by only 1% of scholars.

Global Reach

Your research has been saved and shared in 5 countries.
